What does the eye and music emoji mean

The eyes emoji has many uses. It mostly serves to draw attention to something the user wants to highlight, especially in situations that involve drama and interpersonal tension. It can also be an emoji representation of shifty eyes or the action of side-eyeing. This emoji sometimes appears when someone finds a person attractive. The eyes emoji is a pair of eyes looking slightly to the side in most renditions of the emoji. However, when Google released the eyes emoji, their version only featured one eye. The eyes emoji was added as part of Unicode 6.0 in 2010 and added to Emoji 1.0 in 2015. this image isn't moving pic.twitter.com/ON0N8hXWMs — Jonathan Berry (@jonb3d) October 12, 2018 When someone thinks a tweet is about them, I mean it wasn't but if the shoe fits @satanskyler, April, 2017 Thomas Sanders is so amazing but his butt is incredible # o. #thomas sanders landus beyoncebeyoffce. Tumblr, July, 2015 NFL regular season schedules will be released next Thursday. stay tuned. @LeadingNFL, April, 2017 The eyes emoji is great for situations that involve drama, especially when the person using it is very much enjoying that drama. For example, a Twitter user might upload a screenshot of a heated situation where strong words are exchanged and caption it with the eyes emoji. In this case, it's almost like the emoji equivalent of munching on some popcorn while watching conflict unfold. People who use the eyes emoji in this way are thrilled to be bystanders and relish observing drama as it happens. Ah, they grow up so fast! #PrincessCharlotte has already perfected the art of side eye at such a young age. #RoyalWedding pic.twitter.com/w6KkwkdfRW — InStyle (@InStyle) October 12, 2018 In more direct confrontations, the eyes emoji is good for drawing attention to concerning behavior, albeit in a somewhat judgmental way. In this same vein, it can be used to express disbelief or disapproval at a situation. If your friend says that they left their dog in a hot car during the summer, you might respond with "What?!" followed by the eyes emoji. When used in situations where political figures or celebrities are concerned, the eyes emoji can be used to highlight a ridiculous comment or action. Some social-media users might place the eyes emoji next to a link or statement they want to highlight or promote. In this context, the eyes emoji becomes shorthand for "Pay attention to this!" or "Look at this!" This usage stays very true to the fact that the emoji is a pair of eyes. On other posts, this can seem more prodding. For example, a blogger might post that they only need nine more followers to reach their next milestone, followed by the eyes emoji. All In The Details #HardenVol3 VOYAGER out now: pic.twitter.com/SoyQmlcvWQ — adidas Basketball (@adidasHoops) October 12, 2018 This emoji also can be said to express thirst, a slang term meaning "desire," toward an attractive person. This emoji can also be used in conjunction with sexual questions that are of great interest to the asker. Some of these situations might be inappropriate, like asking intrusive sexual questions to a stranger. Because of this, the eyes emoji can sometimes be seen as pervy, but in a self-aware way. This is not meant to be a formal definition of Eyes emoji like most terms we define on Dictionary.com, but is rather an informal word summary that hopefully touches upon the key aspects of the meaning and usage of Eyes emoji that will help our users expand their word mastery. In new series Emojinary, we look at not what emoji signify but what they have come to mean, as the ideograms become core parts of our conversation, finessing our utterances and reinforcing our sentiments. First up: Apple Color Emoji. Also known as: 'Eyeballs', 'Shifty Eyes', 'Wide Eyes'. Definitions: 1. (literal) 'A pair of eyes, glancing slightly to the left on most platforms.' - Emojipedia2. To notify that something is being watched, monitored or scrutinised.3. To imply that someone is taking a long time responding to, and/or is avoiding, a message.4. Alluding to IRL, the real world, reality etc. The eyes can signify that, while a message or post or tweet might be lost in a feed, the recipient/viewer is hugely invested in it and anxiously watching it, illustrating the gap between their online aloof facade and real-world keen interest. Sometimes used ironically or for hyperbole. Synonyms/synomoji: 😏 Have you seen this emoji being used in different ways? Let us know below!
